From your BTW Headquarters

First I would like to say how much Lynne & I enjoyed seeing all the people who attended both the Western Regional and the Nevada State Trike In. Seeing old friends and meeting new ones is what BTW is all about. The major donations received from both of these events makes a large dent in the effort to eliminate the inherited deficit. If all of the other events make the same type of donation, we could get rid of this issue once and for all and then get on with providing more benefits for current members. We look forward to seeing everyone at the Central Region Trike in AR. in June and the National Trike-In in Deadwood SD in July. The BOD continues to work diligently to make all the Chapters accessible to new members and also improve communications throughout the Association. Our membership is growing and the member profile is expanding to include a diversity of trike types. With our industry growing in leaps and bounds, we need to make sure we are offering all these new rides access to our Association. If you are planning on attending the National Trike-In I would suggest you make your reservations soon as the facilities are filling up fast. I was just informed that the First Gold Hotel is full, but there are other hotels and motels still available. We have had a good number of new Chapters start up this year and more new ones coming, so the outlook for BTW is strong. As you can see from the BOD meeting minutes which are posted on the web site, there are several issues being worked on by the BOD and your input regarding these is requested, so the BOD can be sure they steer your Association in the right direction. Remember they are working on your behalf and they do this out of the goodness of their heart and they need your support. I would like to thank all the members that have stepped up & taken on a Director position at all levels, which is needed to continue to make BTW strong. I look forward to meeting as many members as possible in the coming month.

Ride safe and enjoy Triking

FROM THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS

Jan Nichols

On behalf of the members of the BOD and all the members of BTW we would like to thank Jan Nichols for her dedication and support as the Region 5 Director. Jan has decided to step down and concentrate on her personal life right now and we all wish her well. From all the members and the Board of Directors, we thank you again Jan and we love you.

We would also like to announce the Cathy “Cat” Schoubroeck has stepped up and been appointed the Interim Director for Region #5. Cat is currently the Freedom Riders Chapter Director and as such has been very active in BTW, including the upcoming Central States Regional Trike-In. We all know that Cat will put her heart and soul into this position as she always does.

The BOD would like to welcome her to the Board and thanks her for her past efforts and her selfless commitment to BTW. She is the type of member that makes our Association stronger.

The BOD

Hello from Region 2

I would like to share that I am honored and excited by being appointed to serve as your Region 2 Director. I will be finishing up Sheri Ducker’s term and know that her commitment to BTW and the membership is leaving some large shoes to fill. I have been in BTW for the last 16 years and have met a lot of members but I still only know a fraction of you. I hope that you will help me out in getting to know me as well! I encourage the membership in Region 2 to use me. Questions, problems, or just getting acquainted will be welcomed! As you know there are a lot of miles in Region 2 so it will be physically impossible for me to get everywhere but I will always be available by phone and email.

I have been on the phone a lot with Alex as he has patiently been working to get me up to speed on the workings of BTW and the tools that I have available to use to help members in my Region. I know we have seen a lot of change in BTW and after attending the first board meeting since my appointment and hearing from the other Directors I am encouraged with the path that BTW is heading down. Due to the financial condition of BTW some changes had to be taken quickly to keep BTW solvent, other changes are happening more slowly such as some of the discounts that being a BTW member is bringing. Please remember Alex is just one person and has a lot of things on his plate to take care of. Change is never easy as it sometimes takes us out of our comfort zones but it is also inevitable. If we come together and focus on how we can help BTW to remain the great organization that it is for uniting trikers and sharing information we can all do our share in making it an even greater organization. Times are changing and so are the number of trikes on the roads. With all the new trikes on the market and the increased sales of trikes the potential for our family of trikers to grow is increasing daily. We need to welcome the new members and let them know they are joining a family not just an organization. My wife and I plan to get out and attend some events this year and will attempt to get to the Central States Trike-In in June for at least a portion of it, the two Kansas Trike-In’s in June and Sept., The Deadwood 3 Wheel Rally in July, and the Nebraska State Trike-In in August. This list may be added to as the season approaches. Anyway, just let me know if there is anything I can do for you. --- Wayne Eck

Region 9 Director

Jackie and I would like to thank all of the BTW members who attended the Western Regional Trike-In in Laughlin in March. It was great to see old friends and meet new ones. We hope everyone enjoyed themselves. We are making plans for the next trike-in and we welcome input from members to make the next one even better. Thanks to your generosity and attendance, we were able to make a substantial contribution to BTW towards the future success of BTW. We also made a donation to the Bullhead City Shop-With-A-Cop program.

Jack Mertes

FROM THE MEMBERS

Part 3: The Natchez Trace Parkway (Our Most Excellent Adventure)

Arriving at the Meriwether Lewis National Park campground after a long, hot, ride the previous day we really appreciated the milder nighttime temperature which allowed us to get a good night's sleep. We slept later than usual so we decided to start the day with a cup o' tea and have an early lunch on the road. We reviewed our trip plan and decide to stay two nights to explore more of the surrounding area after passing a number of places of interest on the way here. With so many points of interest to stop and see along the trace and we know we will have to be selective so we can make this journey in four days. I also don't want to back-track more than we have to. Fortunately, in this area there are alternative scenic routes which allow us to make our way back to the bridge at milepost 438 and return to the campsite via the Trace.

We rolled out of the campsite and headed south to milepost 428 and headed east on Tennessee Highway 46 to Leipers' Fork. I drive through scoping out what's here and turn around and make a bee-line for Puckett's Grocery and Restaurant. I walk through the door and I can see this place has a history. A functional old-fashioned soda fountain bar, stage, grocery shelves, bare wood plank floor, a small hot food buffet in front of a grill and two cheerful women inviting us in and telling us what's on the menu. For Lunch I chose southern green bean, seasoned potato wedges, chicken sandwich, a soda, and some hard-packed ice cream. It's Monday and the entertainment doesn't start until later in the week. Yea, I could be a regular at this place even if it is the only restaurant in town.

Heading north out of town I see off in the distance a McMansion with a driveway so long I could easily hit 3rd gear long before I got near the house. As we pass the entrance gate there is a full size dead deer and five turkey vultures. What's notable about this is the deer is right up against the gate, that's not usually where road kill hits the ground. I'm thinking someone is on the opposite side of some local issue and this is a message being sent. Have I seen to many Sopranos' episodes?

Continuing north on TN 46 we exit left to TN 94 and are on our way to Birdsong Hollow. Mile Marker (MM) 438 Double –Arch Bridge Having rolled over this bridge the prior day we had to come back for the scenic view.

At 582 feet in height the view is country chic. I parked the trike at the end of the bridge and we walked out by the center for the view. A Ranger stopped in the southbound lane and we talked about the trike for about 10 minutes. In that time only one northbound car went by us. Did I mention there isn't much traffic on this road?

We continue south on the trace to MM 423.9 Tennessee Valley Divide for a quick view of lush green tree tops.

MM 375.8 Old Trace Drive Here is a 2.5 mile dirt, one lane path along the valley ridge and we decided to ride it. I was glad I didn't have the camper behind me because the farther up the road we got the more rustic the path became. The ride offered some shade and a nice valley view.

MM 350.5 Sunken Trace There are many stops where you can walk the same path that so many American Indians and early settlers had traveled. At the Sunken Trace the pathway showed three different pathways that were used when one or the other became water logged. One of the paths was worn down close to four feet from all the traffic the path bore.

Our day was coming to a close so we headed back to the Meriwether Lewis Campground for dinner. At the campsite we met another camper who was there for the week to go to the Rolling Stones concert in Nashville the next weekend. On this night we had a surprise. About 10 p.m. fireflies began appearing. These weren't the small Northern Illinois fireflies, they were big. Really big and there were a lot of them. I tried counting them but quickly gave up as they passed in swarms. They were moving across the campground clearly with a destination in mind. I found out the next day that across from the campground is Sand Creek. This is a natural congregation point for them. They weren't synchronous fireflies like those in Kentucky, but it was still quite a site to see.

Day 2: Another decent night's sleep and with growling stomachs we decide to drive into Hohenwald for gas. Just minutes down the road we came upon a gas station that offered breakfast sandwiches. We moved on and headed downtown for a more traditional breakfast. Hohenwald looked to be an active small town. We ate at one of the local diners: county eggs, bacon, and hot coffee. Heading back to the campground I observed there were no national fast food restaurants chains in town. We bought ice and packed-up the campsite. Leaving the campground we toured the Meriwether Lewis burial monument and the cabin in which his suspicious death occurred. Not too far south of the campground the curvy road and hills began flattening out. With a few exceptions, the NTP just got flatter and straighter the farther south we went. As we depart Tennessee I feel I have seen more valleys here than anywhere I have ever traveled. We have now crossed into the Northwest corner of Alabama where the NTP cuts through for about 25 miles.

MM 327.3 Colbert Ferry George Colbert operated a ferry across the Tennessee River from 1800-1819. Colbert once charged Andrew Jackson $75,000 to ferry his Tennessee Army across the river. The John Coffee Memorial Bridge now carries the NTP across the Tennessee River which is .8 mile long. MM 317 Freedom Hills Overlook This is the highest point on the trace. The ride up is steep and it takes you up over the valleys and treetops. Now only nine miles to the Alabama-Mississippi state line.

We make two stops in Mississippi before we arrive at the evenings' campsite. MM 308.8 Bear Creek Mound This flat-topped mound was built during the Mississippian period between 1100 and 1300 A.D. Archeological evidence shows this site was used by hunters as early as 8000 B.C.. MM 308.4 Cave Spring A long room and corridor was dissolved out of the limestone rock by the underground water.

MM 304.5 Tishomingo State Park The NTP runs directly through the Tishomingo State Park which is a nice convenience. Being a state park the nightly fee is $6.

It is located in the foothills of the Appalachian Mountains so getting a flat campsite could be problem. The campsites encircle a large fishing pond. The first campsites we see are grass patches on the side of a hill. Farther down the road I have a sigh of relief when I see flat pull-in pads. The sites here are clean and each has a picnic table with grill and because of the terrain these sites are raised 10-15 feet above the water which provides for a nice over-water view. The shower house is brick, clean, and is air-conditioned. The A/C was really needed at this point in the trip. It was hot and the cooler ice didn't survive the day so I went out for ice and after a campsite meal we very much enjoyed some iced cocktails and watched the trees sway back and forth over the water.

.Day 3: The weather prediction is for clear skies and hot. Our next campsite is Rocky Springs Campground about 4.5 hours away. We leave mid-morning and expect a full day with the stops we make. on. MM 287.7 Pharr Mounds The largest and most important archaeological site in northern Mississippi was built around 100-1200 A.D.. Eight large dome shaped burial mounds are scattered over an area of 90 acres. Continued....

FROM THE MEMBERS

They were used by nomadic Indians to bury the dead with their possessions.

MM 266 Tupelo Visitor Center This is good rest stop as it is very shady with indoor plumbing. This Ranger Station is good place to pick-up maps, souvenirs, and a chance to ask rangers questions. I had a picture of a snake that I almost stepped on at a previous stop and was unfamiliar with its markings. The ranger said it is non-venomous and called it a Rat snake, a cousin to the Corn snake, who's unique characteristic, is it making itself stiff. Sometimes it can be picked-up and it will hold itself so stiff it is like holding a stick in your hand.

MM261.8 Chickasaw Village Here are foundations of Chickasaw Indian homes and a fort. The Chickasaw used round buildings for the winter and rectangular building for summer living which were well ventilated. 232.4 Bynum Mounds Here are six burial mounds built during the Middle Woodland period, between 100 B.C. and 100 A.D. The NTP was a major trade route. Raw materials from as far away as Galena, Illinois; Ohio, Alabama and the Gulf Coast have been found here.

MM 204 to MM 212 Cruising along in the shade of trees I see a stretch of bright sunlight up ahead. As we come into this sunlight I am amazed at scenery like I've never seen before. On both sides of the road the tops of the evergreen trees were all missing. This lets in a whole lot of sunlight that normally isn't there and this went on for miles. This is an eight-mile section where a tornado ripped through and did a lot of damage. This occurred on April 27, 2011.

MM 180.7 French Camp It's time for a hydration and shade break so we pull into the French Camp which are log cabin buildings containing a small grill and souvenir shop along with a few antique farm implements in the yard. MM122.6 River Bend We've been cruising along for quite a while when I look over to the left and through the trees I see a large river. It looks like shade so I pull off the road. We engage in conversation with an local, elderly Southern Lady who is taking an out of state friend on a site seeing tour. She tells us how a past relative once owned the land where Freedom Hills Overlook (MM317) is located. According to her, the relative sold the property just before it became the National Park Service property. MM 54. 8 Rocky Springs Campground The sun is casting long shadows of the trees to the west and we arrive at what we are expecting to be our evening campsite. This campground must have gotten lost in the state's budget because it was so bad we decided to drive the additional hour to Natchez State Park and double back the next day to see what we passed along the way. We exit the NTP at MS 553 and in 1.6 miles we are checking in at Natchez State Park. This is a clean park with paved sites, laundry and shower facilities and all for only $4.00 a night. After setting up the camper we drive into Natchez to find dinner. We found a restaurant with A/C in the old section of Natchez and were introduced to real southern cooking. Over dinner we worked out the plan for tomorrow and headed back to the campsite.

Day 4: MM 15.6 Mount Locust The farthest back we had to drive was about 7 miles to Mount Locust. There once were more than 50 road houses along the NTP and this one is the only remaining structure. Constructed about 1780 it served as a farm and Inn for the road weary. There is a small souvenir shop at the base of the hill. This is the only time I've ever see a card displaying the various types of bullets used in the civil war.

MM 10.3 Emerald Mound Heading south we stop at an Indian mound that rivals the Cahokia Mounds in western Illinois. As the second largest mound in the U.S. Emerald Mound was built during the Mississippian Period 1000 A.D. -1700 A.D. and covers eight acres. The lower mound is 35 ft. tall with another mound 25 ft. tall on top of it. Archaeologists believe the mound was used for civic and religious ceremonies. Continued....

MM 0 Southern Terminus On the fourth day of our journey we arrive at the Southern Terminus of the NTP.

We swap taking pictures with a couple bikers who are just starting their journey north and watch as they take-off on their adventure. From here you either exit left or right to Liberty Road on the edge of Natchez. We head into town for lunch and some touristy stuff. We do a self-guided walking tour, sample the local B.B.Q., and on the way out of town take the driving tour of Natchez. Now at this point we are in dire need of some strong coffee and haven't seen any place where we can get an espresso. Just as we are nearing the end of this driving tour we spot a hand painted 8 ft. x 4 ft. sign for Steampunk Coffee Roasters. We drop-in and enjoy a well-deserved drink. We are quite entertained by the baristas who demonstrate how to make some really far- out coffee drinks. They let us take our cups outside for a toast of the finale of our trip and snap a picture for us. Though this adventure is done we still have to decide about getting home. My wife wins that conversation and we are heading to Alabama to spend Father's Day Weekend with relatives. Then, we head back to Illinois. Ride safe and ride often!

"Triker Buddies"

Webster's defines Buddies as a Companion, Partner or Friend. To me it means so much more. There are many, many different kinds of buddies. There are Hunting, Fishing, Work and Motorcycle Buddies. Buddies are short, tall, fat and thin. There are Buddies of Buddies, Wife's, Husband's and Kid's Buddies. There are Black, White, Brown, Red and Gray Buddies. We make New Buddies, have Young and Old Buddies. Truckers have Good Buddies while Car Pooler's have Commuting Buddies. Buddies here, buddies there, buddies, buddies everywhere. Everyone has at least one. So when and why did buddies take over the previous spot held by friend, acquaintance, pal and all the first names in existence? I have a theory about that. It all started after the Vietnam Nam war. The soldiers came home in numbers and had a difficult time adjusting back to civilian life. They had called each other buddies while in country and it stuck back home. Unknowingly other people picked up the term and now it is the norm. Of course that is just my theory and as the saying goes, "Everyone has one". Whatever the case may be, buddies have become the standard use since the early '70's.

Most of my buddies are Motorcycle/Trike riders. They are men and women from my home Chapter and from any other chapter that I may meet. They are near and far, love to eat food and ride Trikes. Some are single, others have been married for an eternity. They are normal, well adjusted, home owners that share a passion and love for owning, riding and showing off their machines. After 35 years of riding I can honestly say "I have never met a Triker I didn't like". Some of my biker buddies have tried my patience, but they are all decent people.

What defines a buddy? I believe a buddy will help out any of his buddies in anyway possible with any problems. A buddy, when asked, will assist in decision making, give an opinion, answer questions or loan a moderate amount of money as needed. A real buddy would never lend insult to injury or Continued .....

screw another buddy in anyway. Recently at a Mall Show I fell twice, once when my chair collapsed and once while attempting to get on my bike.

Both times at least 5 buddies came to my rescue, one buddy helped me both times. They were all Chapter buddies that I would help out in anyway possible. Triker buddies are the best, and you can't have too many.

My best buddy did not own or ride a machine. He was my age, a Vietnam Veteran and we were buddies for a very long time. We helped each other through marriages, divorce, sickness, distress, addiction and denial.

We loaned each other money, been successful business partners, a great Euchar team and even enabled one another on occasions. We fought for one another and would've die for one another. He was the epitome of a buddy and more. I could tell him anything, call on him anytime and depend on him all the time, and he on me.

I hope everyone has that kind of Best Buddy. Sometimes buddies change for one reason or another. Marriage, relocation and or some kind of screw up can alienate buddies, but true buddies never waiver from the course.

Best buddies can discuss it and cuss it and work it out. Only death can put an end between those Buddies.

There are other types of buddies that are equally as good as Best Buddies. I call them Family Buddies. This diverse group of buddies are people we love. We share everything with them and we feel we could never live without them in our lives. They consist of mothers, fathers, siblings, uncles, aunts, nieces, nephews, and all in-laws.

We know what to expect and when to expect it from these buddies, but sometimes they surprise us and do the unexpected.

The last, but not the least of the buddies is the Wife, Husband or S.O., they are Love Buddies.

They give us strength, love, compassion, purpose and meaning through life. We trust them, love them and the intimacy shared is unmatched. Without them all the rest of our buddies would be a wasted effort. To have them in our lives means more than life itself. We have small expectations of these Buddies, other than being there for one other.

Buddies are important and needed by us all. They help us through life and death experiences by giving us strength, understanding and purpose so we may assist them. It is my hope that we can all be Buddies.

The money we receive from the recycled pop tabs will be added to the general operations fund to help us pay the utility bills and buy the necessary supplies for the house.

For 34 years, the Tucson Ronald McDonald House has depended upon the people of Southern Arizona to join us in our efforts to keep families close. It is estimated that the recovery time of an ill child can be reduced up to a third when families are present.

Please accept our heartfelt thanks for helping so many families!

James Whitehead

October 4, 1935 to
February 10, 2015

James Whitehead succumbed to the complications from a stroke on February 20, 2015. James became enamored with trikes late in life when he joined Brothers of the Third Wheel. He proceeded to build his first trike from the ground up then his latest project was to convert his current trike to a Subaru engine. He loved the people and riding! While a member of the Southern Nevada Roadrunners Chapter he served as BTW Nevada State Director, Chapter Director and Assistant Director. He was taken home to Whidbey Island, WA. A memorial ride to Mt. Charleston was held on Oct. 3rd attended by members of the Southern Nevada Roadrunners, Free Riders and Pahrump Trikers. His heart of gold, sense of humor and booming voice are greatly missed!

Bobbie (Bob) Lee Sallee,

81, Wellsville, KS passed away at his home Nov. 4,

2015 from congestive heart failure. Bob is survived by his wife Veda. he started Bob's Buggy and Trike Shop where he built dune buggies, trikes and sold parts. This business he ran until the end. He loved his customers who became his friends and his trike organization, Brothers of the Third Wheel. Bob did much to promote BTW through the building of his VW Trikes and his friendships with his customers. He was a familiar face at Ks triking events and also events in neighboring states. Bob's easy manner and truly friendly smile will be missed by all that knew him.

Clarence "Lucky" Ramsey

We are sad to say we lost one of our fellow brothers this last week. The wonderful and kind hearted man that will truly be missed. Ride free now and soar above with many more BTW angels. You are loved and will truly be missed.

May They Rest In Peace.

BTW BOD Elections 2015

BTW is split into 10 Regions; 9 of these regions are in the USA and Canada and the final one covers all areas outside of the USA & Canada. Each Region has a Regional Director. The Regional Directors serve as the Board of Directors. The Board makes decisions regarding the running of BTW, with each Regional Director being elected for a three-year term by the Directors in their Regions. If your Regional Director is not participating in the Board Meetings or being in touch with the Directors in their region, it is up to the membership to request them to step down. The Regions are set out on the Contact page on the forum and in every Triker. For more info, contact Headquarters.

If it is your Region's turn to vote for your Director, have your Chapter or State Director contact HQ and get the documentation for the election.

The nomination period for these posts ends May 1st, and any names submitted will be added to the list of nominees for the regions, if no names are submitted for the position, the previous representatives will remain in their post for the next three years.

As you will see REGION 7 is still awaiting a representative so if you are a fully paid up member in Region 7 ( DE, MD, NJ, PA, VA, WV) Please get in touch with HQ and discuss the post and the possibility of you taking this on.

Shaun & Jackie Lloyd (HT & Mrs HT), BTW B.O.D. Election Committee.
